Introduction to conference:

For the past couple of years, the California Urban Water Conservation Council (CUWCC) has worked on crafting a long-term vision for sustainable urban landscapes, dubbed the New Norm. There will be two statewide symposia where state agencies will discuss programs and priorities for sustainable landscaping; non-profits will highlight successful partnerships in various watersheds; and several agencies will discuss ongoing local programs. Additionally, all attendees will participate in various breakout sessions during the afternoon.

At the May 22nd event, Carlos Michelon (San Diego County Water Authority) will present on our Sustainable Landscapes Program, made possible by the Prop 84-Round 1 IRWM grant. We would like the San Diego region to be well represented and are encouraging folks to register early and participate. If anyone is interested in carpooling arrangements from San Diego to Rancho Cucamonga, they should email Carlos at cmichelon@sdcwa.org.

Presentation

Presentation was put on by Cambria McLeod with Kohler Co. She reviewed senate bill 407. SB 407 applies to residential and commercial properties built on or before 1994 dealing with plumbing fixture replacements. Residential must be compliant by Jan 2017, however any permit pulled for residential construction starting the first of the year must follow the new SB 407 guidelines. Commercial property must be compliant by 2019, this includes multi family work.
