       2737 Fulton Avenue

We will be in the private banquet room to the left of the restaurant.

Mark Sanders, Product Line Manager, for Sloan AQUS will be our speaker.

The Sloan AQUS® water conservation system is based on the premise that using fresh water to flush a toilet is unnecessary and wasteful. The AQUS system takes the water that goes down the bathroom sink, filters and disinfects it, and uses it to flush the toilet. It does not cross connect to the fresh water system nor does it inhibit the backflow prevention.

If you want any items discussed at the meeting, you may E-mail the office at: iapmo@sacvalleyassoc.net or Fax the items to (916) 567-6638.
