VII. Program:
   a. Lance Banks from ASHRAE discussed their new project in Guatemala. They are outfitting 20 homes with solar LED lighting systems. Most of the community there lives off the grid and the children struggle to keep up with school and everyday activities due to the lack of modern conveniences. ASHRAE is starting with 20 homes but have hopes to serve the entire population.
   b. Kelli Kristo from Project 150 explained that not only do they provide meals to homeless or impoverished school kids, they also give the kids they serve a chance to further their education by awarding scholarships to colleges. They are also connecting with trade schools to give another career outlet to the children and families they serve.
   c. Dale Darcas from the Serving Our Kids Foundation shared how his organized utilizes the strength of community volunteers and donations to ensure Clark County youth are fed for the weekends. They rely heavily on support from the community and encouraged the attendees to consider hosting a food drive to help replenish their pantry.
VIII. Unfinished Business
